Cancellation Policy

The below policy was developed in coherence with University of Geneva's cancellation policy.

The course takes place on schedule:

In case of a cancellation from a participant more than 30 days before the start of the course: we will reimburse the totality of the tuition fees, except the deposit.

In case of a cancellation from a participant less than 30 days before the start of the course: tuition fees and deposit will not be refunded.

The Geneva Centre of Humanitarian Studies decides to postpone the course (not started yet):

We encourage the participant to maintain his/her registration and will keep you informed of the starting date as soon as possible. However, if you confirm your cancellation, we will reimburse the totality of the tuition fees, including the deposit.

The Geneva Centre of Humanitarian Studies decides to cancel the course (without postponement to a later date):

You will receive full reimbursement of tuition fees, including the deposit.

For any question, please contact Joëlle Gentile (joelle.gentile@unige.ch), Finance Officer.
