

Master of Advanced Studies in Humanitarian Action (MAS)

Credits	60 credits ECTS
Dates	Option 1: 8 September 2021 -31 October 2022 (14 consecutive months) The MAS starts in September with a first residential term (from September to December 2021), then it continues online (from January to October 2022). Note: This option is the only one applying to students who have a scholarship or students who want to finish their MAS in 14 months. Option 2: flexible option, up to 38 months With this option, students have the flexibility to start the Executive Master with the core course (term one), or with any of the other courses part of the programme. Students have up to 38 months to complete the 60 credits ECTS necessary for the MAS. Possible combinations can be found here. The detailed study plan is to be discussed with the MAS Course Director.
Format	Blended – residential course in Geneva (September-December), the rest is online
Language	English
Fees	Option 1: CHF 15'000 Option 2: CHF 17'000
Course director	Dr. Valérie Gorin – valerie.gorin@unige.ch

Course overview

Short description

The Master of Advanced Studies (MAS) programme has been developed in response to the growing need to understand, question and reform today's humanitarian system, in collaboration with our partner organisations, the International Committee of the Red Cross (ICRC) and Médecins Sans Frontières (MSF). The programme offers evidence-based, cross-disciplinary and cross-cultural education in the field of humanitarian action. This blended postgraduate course combines theoretical, practical and managerial skills in a unique adult-learning environment, to empower humanitarian professionals with reflective and critical analysis for a more effective humanitarian response. The coursework will focus on deconstructing the humanitarian system, on learning about its normative frameworks and on reflecting about the interactions and power dynamics among humanitarian actors. It will provide expertise in assessing methods, tools and approaches used to provide assistance to affected populations in different humanitarian contexts (armed conflicts, disasters, urban settings and migration).

Objectives of the course

At the end of the course, you will be able to:

- Understand the evolution of the humanitarian system, governance and stakeholders
- Demonstrate knowledge of core humanitarian values, principles, codes and frameworks
- Engage with major debates and critiques in the humanitarian sector
- Critically assess humanitarian contexts and complex emergencies (armed conflicts, disasters, urban settings and migration)
- Assess, monitor and evaluate humanitarian projects
- Demonstrate key management, leadership and accountability skills
- Develop relevant skillsets and competencies for the humanitarian sector, including public health, gender-based and sexual violence, communication, advocacy, negotiation, protection, finance and management

Workload

Around 1500 hours of work for the whole Master, including:

- App. 400 hours of face-to-face/online teaching (lectures, group work, round tables, debates)
- App. 100 hours of external learning activities (visits, conferences, film festivals)
- App. 1000 hours of self-study time (readings, assignments, videos)

Option 1: Structure of the MAS (14-month consecutive learning)

Diploma of Advanced Studies (DAS) in Humanitarian Action

Term 1: September-December 2021

(25 credits ECTS)

The Diploma of Advanced Studies (DAS) aims to offer professionals a strong understanding of contemporary humanitarian challenges through a comprehensive overview of conceptual and operational issues in past and present humanitarian crises. It is structured in five modules:

- Module 1: Humanitarianisms
- Module 2: Contexts, Action and Consequences
- Module 3: Revisiting Vulnerabilities and Needs
- Module 4: Humanitarian Governance, Norms and Principles
- Module 5: The Humanitarians and the Social World of Aidland

Certificate of Advanced Studies (CAS) Quality Management of Humanitarian Projects

Term 2: January-April 2022

(10 credits ECTS)

The Certificate of Advanced Studies (CAS) addresses the essential components that guarantee the qualitative management of adapted projects and cohesive teams. It integrates fundamental principles such as inclusion, do no harm, accountability or participation into processes, methods and tools of project and people management.

The whole CAS takes place online during 12 consecutive weeks.

Executive Short Courses (ESC)

Terms 3 and 4: April-October 2022

(2 credits ECTS for each course)

A series of short elective courses focus on key approaches and evaluative tools of humanitarian contexts. Students can select five courses to develop specific skills and learn about good practices. All courses take place online during two weeks each.

The elective courses include:

- Participatory approaches with crisis affected communities
- Designing an advocacy strategy for humanitarian action
- Media and humanitarian action
- Planetary health
- Negotiation in humanitarian crises
- Non-communicable diseases in humanitarian settings
- Cash assistance in humanitarian action: What works?
- Protection in humanitarian settings
- Sexual and reproductive health in humanitarian crises

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Health systems assessment in humanitarian crises
Final dissertation (15 credits ECTS)	Throughout the DAS, MAS students will engage in a series of workshops designed to develop information-gathering and processing, critical thinking, analytical writing and networking skills. These workshops will help participants to write the MAS dissertation. The overall aim of the MAS dissertation is to stimulate a critical and original reflection on issues linked to humanitarian action through. The submission deadline for the MAS dissertation is October 31, 2022.

Option 2: Structure of the MAS (flexible option – up 38 months)
Please note that any of the following courses is an entry point to start the MAS
Fall 2021	DAS in Humanitarian Action (25 credits ECTS)
2022, 2023 or 2024	The flexible option offers the choice between two different Certificate of Advanced Studies (CAS). MAS students can choose one (10 credits ECTS) or both (20 credits ECTS). Both CAS are delivered online. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> CAS Quality Management of Humanitarian Projects CAS Accountability Towards Affected Populations [new course to open in 2021]
2022, 2023 or 2024	Flexible MAS students who do not want to do a CAS, or who chose to only do one CAS, can earn extra credits from a series of executive short courses. Students can select up to ten courses (2 credits ECTS each) to develop specific skills and learn about good practices. All courses take place online during two weeks each, throughout the year. The executive short courses include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Participatory approaches with crisis affected communities Designing an advocacy strategy for humanitarian action Media and humanitarian action

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Planetary health • Negotiation in humanitarian crises • Non-communicable diseases in humanitarian settings • Cash assistance in humanitarian action: What works? • Protection in humanitarian settings • Sexual and reproductive health in humanitarian crises • Health systems assessment in humanitarian crises • Sexual violence in humanitarian settings and emergencies • Leadership and people management • Project cycle management • Patient Safety: Addressing health-care related incidents in humanitarian crises
Final dissertation (15 credits ECTS)	Throughout the DAS, MAS students will engage in a series of workshops designed to develop information-gathering and processing, critical thinking, analytical writing and networking skills. These workshops will help participants to write the MAS dissertation. The overall aim of the MAS dissertation is to stimulate a critical and original reflection on issues linked to humanitarian action through. The submission deadline for the MAS dissertation is October 31, 2024.

Promotion

Audience

- Entry and mid-level professionals in the humanitarian, development or social sector looking to develop their competencies as well as reflect and capitalise on their experiences
- Professionals from other sectors (medicine, military, private sector, social services) who wish to increase their understanding of the humanitarian sector for a potential career change
- Graduate students with relevant volunteer or intern experience, looking to undertake a postgraduate course with a view to entering the humanitarian sector

Our audience is typically junior or middle manager, 25-45 years old, expat or national staff.